

AGOSTINI'S

Agostini's Limited wishes to advise that its trading division, formerly known as Agostini Marketing, has been rebranded as Agostini Building Solutions.

This change seeks to align the trading name of this division with its core areas of business and will bring greater clarity and strength of focus to its strategic direction going forward.

This division has served the Architectural and Commercial Contract Sector with high quality products and Interior Construction Services for over 50 years and will strive to build on those decades of expertise to support its new branding with an even higher level of product and service delivery.

New look and logo same great brands and service!
